

Energetics of Points and Meridians

This in-depth course explores acupuncture/acupressure points and their energetic relationship to the corresponding organ systems. The class provides an integrated format of lecture and hands-on location, deepening the understanding of the core principles of Oriental Medicine and the Acutonics Healing System.

This class is required for certification if the student is not an acupuncturist. Required for practitioner certification

Prerequisites: Acutonics Level I Core Curriculum